There is no question whatever that any attempt in the coming elec-tion to override or evade the law will react disastrously upon the party that makes it.

The Goebelite candidate for Congress, especially, will be the beneficiary of an honest enforcement of The National Government the law. The National Government cannot, and will not, permit a violation of laws which are enacted for the benefit of all. There is no reason why they should not be faithfully observed in Kentucky as elsewhere.

SUFFRACE MUST NOT BE COR-

RUPTED OR COERCED.

It must be distinctly understood, therefore, that all violations of the election laws will be carefully noted, and the prescribed penalties rigor-ously and impartially enforced in every case.

If this was the opinion of a philosophic observer of the mid-century, what must be said of the tumultuous Democracy which is surging around us today? With the epochal advent of that powerful organization in the third decade of the century, it was supposed that the day of political inequality, of social privilege, and of class distinctions was irrecoverably gone. The day of "equal rights" had come, and all that the phrase [implies. The new party was to be pre-eminently a party of the people. masses, the party would long ago have cased to exist. The chivalrous gentlemen who assumed to select its leaders were, in many instances, as hopelessly caddish as the liveried cockney who brushes the trousers of an English Duke.

The latest manifestation off this spirit is to be found in a special dispatch from New York City to The Court-Journal of the Beckhamite Democracy in Kentucky. The writer, who has recently been rubbing against a high-toned Tammany boss, loftily stigmatizes \(\frac{1}{2} \) flowers CLEVE-LAND as that "ligrate raised from a common Sheriff twice to the Presidential chair by the votes of Democrats." SERIOUS CUTTING.

nce Stockdale Knifes a Colored Man in Pfeiffer's Saloon.

Yesterday aftermon Clarence "Jinks" Stockdale and John Spencer, colored, got into an altercation at Tony Pfeir's saloon on Market street.

There are conflicting stories as two was the aggressor; but Spencer was about the worst carred up piece of humanity that one ever saw.

There was a frightful gash across the left side of the head and face, reaching from above the ear nearly to the jaw, another across the cheek, while his inroat, was listed open by a horrid wound. He was taken to Dr. Xaell's office, where Dr. Adamson assisted in free ing the wounds, after which he was
